Electronic Commerce and the State and Federal Tax Bases
J. Clifton Fleming, Jr. ................................................................. 1

State Taxation of Electronic Commerce: Perspectives on Proposals for Change and Their Constitutionality
Kendall L. Houghton and Walter Hellerstein .............................. 9

Rethinking State and Local Reliance on the Retail Sales Tax: Should We Fix the Sales Tax or Discard It?
Charles E. McLure, Jr. .............................................................. 77

Leveling the Playing Field: A Business Perspective on Taxing E-Commerce
Val John Christensen ............................................................... 139

The History, Purpose, and Procedures of the Advisory Commission on Electronic Commerce
Thomas Griffith ................................................................. 155

Questioning the Viability of the Sales Tax: Can It Be Simplified to Create a Level Playing Field?
Rich McKeown ................................................................. 165

Undoing Miranda
Michael Edmund O’Neill ..................................................... 185
NOTES & COMMENTS

Presidential Power Grab or Pure State Might? A Modern Debate Over Executive Interpretations on Federalism
Jennie Holman Blake .......................................................... 293

Daniel R. Dinger .............................................................. 377

Unraveling the Lining of ERISA Health Insurer Pockets—A Vote for National Federal Common Law Adoption of the Make Whole Doctrine
David M. Kono ................................................................. 427

AT&T Corp. v. City of Portland: Classifying “Internet Over Cable” in the “Open Access” Fight
Jason Whiteley ................................................................. 451

David J. Williams ............................................................ 491