Marriage and the Betrayal of Perez and Loving
Monte Neil Stewart and William C. Duncan.................................. 555

INTERNATIONAL LAW AND RELIGION SYMPOSIUM

Challenges and Opportunities Facing Religious Freedom in the Public Square
Judge J. Clifford Wallace ................................................................. 597

Religion in the Public Sphere: Challenges and Opportunities
Blandine Chelini-Pont ..................................................................... 611

Religion in the Public Sphere: Challenges and Opportunities in Ghanaian Lawmaking, 1989–2004
Elom Dovlo ....................................................................................... 629

Rethinking the Role of Religion in Changing Public Spheres: Some Comparative Perspectives
Rosalind I.J. Hackett ........................................................................ 659

Religion in the Public Sphere:
Challenges and Opportunities in Japan
Hiroaki Kobayashi ............................................................................ 683

Eugenio Relaño Pastor ................................................................. 711
COMMENTS

China’s New Regulations on Religion:
A Small Step, Not a Great Leap, Forward
Eric R. Carlson ........................................................................... 747

Are State Marriage Amendments Bills of Attainder?:
A Case Study of Utah’s Amendment Three
Daniel H. Walker. ........................................................................... 799