STATEMENT OF JURISDICTION

The Court of Appeals has jurisdiction pursuant to Utah Code Ann. § 78-2a-3(2)(a).

STATEMENT OF ISSUES

1. Issue: Did the district court abuse its discretion in finding a substantial change of circumstances since the entry of the parties' decree and awarding Mrs. McKay alimony in the amount of $500?

Standard of Review: "Absent a showing of a clear and prejudicial abuse of discretion, [this court] will not interfere with an alimony or property award [in subsequent modifications of an earlier decree.]" Throckmorton v. Throckmorton, 767 P.2d 121, 122 (Utah App. 1988) (citing Gardner v. Gardner, 748 P.2d 1076, 1078 (Utah 1988); Eames v. Eames, 735 P.2d 395, 397 (Utah App. 1987)).

2. Issue: Did the trial court abuse its discretion in awarding Mrs. McKay delinquent child support in the amount of $914.00?

Standard of Review: "In reviewing child support awards, '[this court] accords substantial deference to the trial court's findings and give it considerable latitude in fashioning the appropriate relief.'" Watson v. Watson, 837 P.2d 1, 3, (Utah App. 1992) (quoting Woodward v. Woodward, 709 P.2d 393, 394 (Utah

3. Issue: Did the trial court abuse its discretion in awarding Mrs. McKay attorney fees in the mount of $2,789.00.

Standard of Review: "Both the decision to award attorney fees and the amount of such fees are within the sound discretion of the [trial] court." Morgan v. Morgan, 213 Utah Adv. Rep. 22, 27 (Utah App. 1993) (quoting Crouse v. Crouse, 817 P.2d 836, 840 (Utah App. 1991)).

4. Issue: Is Mrs. McKay entitled to attorney fees on appeal?

DETERMINATIVE LAW

A. Statutes

1. Utah Code Ann. § 30-3-3 (1991):

Award of costs, attorney and witness fees -- Temporary Alimony

(1) In any action filed under Title 30, Chapter 3, 4, or 6, and in any action to establish an order of custody, visitation, child support, alimony, or division of property in a domestic case, the court may order a party to pay the costs, attorney fees, and witness fees, including expert witness fees, of the other party to enable the other party to prosecute or defend the action. The order may include provision for costs of the action.

(2) In any action to enforce an order of custody, visitation, child support, alimony, or division of property in a domestic case, the court may award costs and attorney fees upon determining that the party substantially prevailed upon the claim or defense. The court, in its discretion, may award no fees or limited fees against a party if the court finds the party is impecunious or enters in the record the reason for not awarding fees.

B. Rules

Rule 24(a)(7) Utah R. App. Proc. (1993):

A statement of the case. The statement shall first indicate briefly the nature of the case, the course of proceedings, and its disposition in the court below. A statement of the facts relevant to the issues presented for review shall follow. All statements of fact and references to the proceedings below shall be supported by citations to the record.

Rule 24(k) Utah R. App. Proc. (1993):

Requirements and sanctions. All briefs under this rule must be concise, presented with accuracy, logically arranged with proper headings and free from burdensome, irrelevant, immaterial or scandalous matter. Briefs which are not in compliance may be disregarded or stricken, on motion or sua sponte by the court, and the court may assess attorney fees against the offending lawyer.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

On or about November 24, 1980, Appellant, Allan Leslie McKay, filed a complaint for divorce. (R. at 2) Said divorce was granted and a decree was entered on April 21, 1981. (R. at 19). Subsequent to the decree, Appellee, Mary Ann McKay, became permanently and totally disabled and therefore was unable to work. Accordingly, on December 19, 1991, Mrs. McKay filed a Petition to Modify with the District Court seeking an increase in alimony from $1 per year to $500 per month. (R. at 186) On December 28, 1992, the court entered an order granting such Petition to Modify and awarded Mrs. McKay $500 per month alimony. (R. at 295).

STATEMENT OF THE FACTS

Allen Leslie McKay and Mary Ann McKay were married on May 27, 1966 in Jackson, Michigan. (R. at 2). The parties had four children. (R. at 2). On November 25, 1980, Mr. McKay filed a complaint for divorce with the district court. (R. at 2). The court granted said divorce on April 21, 1981 and entered findings of fact, conclusions of law and decree, awarding Mrs. McKay custody of the children and child support in the amount of $110 per month per child. (R. at 17). Mrs. McKay was also awarded alimony in the amount of $1.00 per year. (R. at 18). In January, 1986, Mrs. McKay became ill, (R. at 376) and was ultimately rendered disabled (R. at 364-365). Accordingly, on December 19, 1991, Mrs. McKay filed a Petition to Modify the original decree, seeking an increase in alimony. (R. at 315). On January 27, 1993, the District Court entered findings of fact, conclusions of law, and order, granting Mrs. McKay's Petition to Modify awarding her alimony in the amount of $500 per month (R. at 320); delinquent child support in the amount of $914.00 (R. at 321); and attorney fees (R. at 321). The Court also terminated Mrs. McKay's child support. (R. at 321). Mr. McKay appeals from that final order and judgment.

SUMMARY OF THE ARGUMENT

1. In this appeal, Mr. McKay fails to comply with the Utah Rules of Appellate Procedure. Specifically he fails to provide this court with the relevant facts of this case with citations to the record as required under Utah Rule of Appellate Procedure 24(a)(7). In fact, Mr. McKay's brief fails to provide this court with any citations to the record. Accordingly, this court "will assume the correctness of the judgment." Steele v. Bd. of Review, 845 P.2d 960, 962 (Utah App. 1993) (citations omitted); see generally Rule 24(k) Utah R. App. Proc. ("Briefs which are not in compliance may be disregarded or stricken, on motion or sua sponte by the court, and the court may assess attorney fees against the offending lawyer." ).

2. The district court did not abuse its discretion in finding a substantial change of circumstances since the entry of the divorce decree and awarding Mrs. McKay alimony in the amount of $500. Such findings were well supported since Mrs. McKay had been rendered totally disabled and unable to work since the entry of the decree. Further, the evidence at trial demonstrated that Mr. McKay's income had increased substantially since the entry of such decree. Finally, Mrs. McKay is no longer receiving child support. Taken collectively, these factors constitute a substantial change in circumstances that justify modification of the original decree.

3. The trial court did not abuse its discretion in awarding Mrs. McKay delinquent child support in the amount of $914.00. The uncontroverted evidence at trial demonstrated that Mr. McKay was delinquent in his child support in the amount of $914.00. Accordingly, the trial court properly awarded such amount.

4. The trial court did not abuse its discretion in awarding Mrs. McKay attorney fees in the amount of $2,789.00. The evidence at trial demonstrated that Mrs. McKay was without the ability to pay attorney fees, that Mr. McKay was able to bear such fees, and that such fees were reasonable.

5. If Mrs. McKay prevails in this appeal, she is entitled to reasonable attorney fees for such appeal. "Ordinarily, when fees in a divorce have been awarded below to the party who then prevails on appeal, fees will also be awarded to that party on appeal." Watson v. Watson, 837 P.2d 1, 8 (Utah 1992) (citations omitted).

ARGUMENT

I. BECAUSE MR. MCKAY FAILED TO COMPLY WITH THE UTAH RULES OF APPELLATE PROCEDURE, THE DISTRICT COURT'S JUDGMENT SHOULD BE AFFIRMED.

Rule 24(a)(7) of the Utah Rules of Appellate Procedure provides:

A statement of the case. The statement shall first indicate briefly the nature of the case, the course of proceedings, and its disposition in the court below. A statement of the facts relevant to the issues presented for review shall follow. All statements of fact and references to the proceedings below shall be supported by citations to the record.

Rule 24(a)(7) Utah R. App. Proc. (1993) (emphasis added).

In Steele v. Bd. of Review, 845 P.2d 960 (Utah App. 1993), this court stated "[i]f a party fails to provide a statement of the facts along with a citation to the record where those facts are supported, we will assume the correctness of the judgment. Id. at 962. (citing Fackrell v. Fackrell, 740 P.2d 1318, 1319 (Utah 1987); Trees v. Lewis, 738 P.2d 612, 612-13 (Utah 1987); White River Shale Oil Corp. v. Public Serv. Comm'n, 700 P.2d 1088, 1089 n.1 (Utah 1985); Koulis v. Standard Oil Co., 746 P.2d 1182, 1184 (Utah App. 1987).

In the case at bar, Mr. McKay fails to comply with the briefing requirements under Rule 24(a)(7) of the Utah Rules of Appellate Procedure. Specifically, Mr. McKay does not provide this court with a statement of relevant facts and citations to the record to support such facts. Further, Mr. McKay even fails to provide record citations to his recitation of the course of proceedings in this action as required by that rule. Accordingly, the trial court's judgment should be affirmed. See Steele v. Bd. of Review, 845 P.2d at 962.

II.       THE DISTRICT COURT PROPERLY FOUND THAT THERE WAS A SUBSTANTIAL CHANGE OF CIRCUMSTANCES SINCE THE ENTRY OF THE DIVORCE DECREE IN THIS MATTER. ACCORDINGLY, MODIFICATION OF SUCH DECREE AWARDING MRS. MCKAY ALIMONY IN THE AMOUNT OF $500 WAS NOT AN ABUSE OF DISCRETION.

"[T]he threshold requirement for relief [in a petition for modification of a divorce decree] is a showing of a substantial change of circumstances occurring since the entry of the decree and not contemplated by the decree itself. Throckmorton v. Throckmorton, 767 P.2d 121, 124 (Utah App. 1988) (quoting Naylor v. Naylor, 700 P.2d 707, 710 (Utah 1985)). "'A relative change in the income and expenses of the parties, if comparatively significant can amount to a substantial change in circumstances' justifying a modification of a prior alimony award. Throckmorton, 767 P.2d at 124 (quoting Jeppson v Jeppson, 684 P.2d 69, 70 (Utah 1984)).

In the instant case, the evidence before the District Court demonstrated that there had been a substantial change of circumstances since the entry of the divorce decree and not contemplated by such decree. First, it is undisputed that since the time of the entry of the divorce decree, Mrs. McKay had been rendered disabled and unable to work. In fact, contrary to Mr. McKay's assertion on appeal, Mr. McKay stipulated to the same at trial. Without objection by Mr. McKay's trial counsel, the court stated:

The Court: Now, counsel met with the Court briefly in chambers before the trial began. And Miss Allen [Mr. McKay's trial counsel] indicated that they did stipulate that they were not disputing that Mrs. McKay was disabled and also receiving Social Security Benefits.

Transcript of hearing at 8.

Further, there was adequate evidence at trial that Mr. McKay's income had increased significantly since the entry of the decree. At the time of the original decree, Mr. McKay's income was approximately $20,000 per year.<sup>1</sup> As demonstrated by Mr. McKay's income tax returns, and a point that he does not dispute<sup>2</sup>, his income for the year 1989 was $36,472.65, his income for 1990 was $36,690.00 and his income for the year 1991 was $33,681.89. While such increase may not, by itself, constitute a substantial change, when considered with the other factors in this case, it is dispositive of such issue. See Throckmorton, 767 P.2d at 124.

Finally, Mrs. McKay's income and expenses have changed significantly. First, Mrs. McKay is not employed as a result of her permanent and total disability. See R. at 237. Further, she is no longer receiving child support. See R. at 321. Finally, as a result of her disability, she incurs medical expenses of $150.00 per month exclusive of medicare. See R. at 239. In fact, the only income Mrs. McKay is receiving is from Social Security and disability compensation. See R. at 237.

Considering the foregoing factors collectively, it is abundantly clear that there has been a substantial change of circumstances since the entry of the divorce decree in this matter. First, Mrs. McKay has been rendered totally disabled and thus unable to procure gainful employment. Second, there has been a significant change in Mr. McKay's income. Finally, Mrs. McKay's income has decreased inasmuch as she is only receiving Federal and State disability compensation. Accordingly, the District Court did not abuse its discretion in finding a substantial change in circumstances.

<sup>1</sup> While the initial decree is silent as to plaintiff's income at the time of the parties' divorce there is sufficient evidence in the record that plaintiff's income was approximately $20,000 at the time of such divorce. In plaintiff's answer to defendant's interrogatories plaintiff admits that his 1981 gross wages were approximately $20,000 and his 1982 gross wages were $21,875.93. (R. at 79.) Further, based on the court's award of child support in the initial decree of $110 per month based solely on plaintiff's income, it is clear that plaintiff's income has increased substantially since the time of the divorce.

Therefore, the issue becomes whether the trial court's award of $500 per month in alimony was an abuse of discretion. See Throckmorton, 767 P.2d at 124. "In formulating alimony awards, the trial court has broad discretion, and its decisions will not be overturned absent an abuse of discretion or manifest injustice." Watson v. Watson, 837 P.2d 1, 3 (Utah App. 1992) (citing Schindler v. Schindler, 776 P.2d 84,90 (Utah App. 1989))

In awarding alimony, appellate courts require the trial court to consider each of the following three factors: (1) the financial conditions and needs of the receiving spouse; (2) the ability of the receiving spouse to produce a sufficient income for him or herself; and (3) the ability of the responding spouse to provide support. If these three factors have been considered, [the court of appeals] will not disturb the trial court's alimony award unless such a serious inequity has resulted as to manifest a clear abuse of discretion. The ultimate test of an alimony award is whether the party receiving alimony will be able to support him or herself "as nearly as possible at the standard of living . . . enjoyed during the marriage [and to prevent the spouse from becoming a public charge]. English v. English, 565 P.2d 409, 411 (Utah 1977).

Watson v. Watson, 837 P.2d at 3 (emphasis added).

In the case at bar, the court's findings properly consider the relevant factors for awarding alimony. First, as to the financial needs of Mrs. McKay, the findings provide:

6. That defendant has income from social security in the sum of $363.80 and disability from the State of Utah in the sum of $587.02. A gross income of $950.82 and defendant has net income of $733.98.

7. That defendant's present minimum living expenses the sum of $1,372.00 [monthly].

Further, as to Mrs. McKay's ability to produce a sufficient income, it was undisputed and, in fact, stipulated to by the parties that Mrs. McKay was disabled, which term connotes inability to work. Based on such evidence and stipulation the court found:

9. That defendant has been disabled and has not been employed or employable since 1987.

Finally, the court considered Mr. McKay's ability to provide support. The uncontroverted evidence before the District Court was that Mr. McKay's income for the year 1989 was $36,472.65, his income for 1990 was $36,690.00 and his income for the year 1991 was $33,681.89. Based on that evidence the court found:

15. That Plaintiff has the income and ability to provide alimony to the defendant.

Therefore, because the District Court in its findings properly considered the requisite factors in formulating the alimony award in this case, the court did not abuse its discretion in making such award.<sup>3</sup> Accordingly, the alimony award should be upheld.

III. THE TRIAL COURT DID NOT ABUSE ITS DISCRETION IN AWARDING MRS. MCKAY DELINQUENT CHILD SUPPORT IN THE AMOUNT OF $914.00.

In his brief, Mr. McKay challenges the trial court's finding number eighteen relating to delinquent child support as follows:

Findings 18 through 21 are also legally insufficient in that portions thereof read like conclusions of law rather than findings of fact contrary to Woodward v. Fazzio, 823 P.2d 474 (Utah App. 1991).

However, this court has stated:

To mount a successful attack on the trial court's factual findings, an appellant must marshal all the evidence in support of the trial court's findings and then demonstrate that, even viewing the evidence in the light most favorable to the findings, the evidence is insufficient to support the findings, Scharf v. BMG Corp., 700 P.2d 1068, 1070 (Utah 1985) or that its findings are otherwise clearly erroneous. A finding is clearly erroneous, when, even though there is evidence to support it, the reviewing court is "left with the definite and firm conviction that a mistake has been committed."

Watson v. Watson, 837 P.2d 1, 6 (citing State v. Walker, 743 P.2d 191, 193 (Utah 1987); Schindler v. Schindler, 776 P.2d 84, 88 (Utah App. 1989)).

In the instant case, it is clear that Mr. McKay has not marshalled all the evidence in support of the finding relating to delinquent child support and demonstrated that such evidence was insufficient to support the finding. In fact, the uncontroverted testimony of Mrs. McKay at trial was that Mr. McKay was delinquent in his child support. She testified as follows:

Q: [By Mr. Olsen] It's true, is it not, that even though the twins were still in high school and turned 18 in August, Mr. McKay paid no child support for that entire year that they were seniors in high school for those boys?

A: [By Mrs. McKay] To the best of my knowledge, no, unless he gave money to them.

Q: But he paid you nothing? He cut it down from the $500 to $125 even though they were in high school for nine months.

A: That's correct. And the Divorce Decree prior to the time it was modified said that he would pay "X" amount of dollars to the time they turned 18 or graduated, whichever came later. And the three boys were all going to be well over their 18th birthday when they graduated but not yet 19.

See Transcript at 380.

Therefore, because Mr. McKay did not marshall all the evidence in support of the court's finding relating to delinquent child support, that finding should be upheld. See Watson 837 P.2d at 7. Moreover, even if the court reviews Mr. McKay's challenge to the finding, the evidence in the record, particularly Mrs. McKay's testimony, shows that the court's finding regarding the delinquent child support is not clearly erroneous.

IV. THE TRIAL COURT DID NOT ABUSE ITS DISCRETION IN AWARDING MRS. MCKAY ATTORNEY FEES.

The District Court has discretion to award attorney fees in a divorce action. See Utah Code Ann. § 30-3-3 (1991). Section 30-3-3 also allows for fees in modification proceedings and appeals. Muir v. Muir, 841 P.2d 736, 741 (Utah App. 1993) (citing Maughan v. Maughan, 770 P.2d 156, 162 (Utah App. 1989)).

"In order to award attorney fees, the trial court must find (1) the requesting party is in need of financial assistance; (2) the requested fees are reasonable; and (3) the other spouse has the ability to pay." Muir, 841 P.2d at 741 (citations omitted).

In the case at bar, the trial considered the relevant factors in awarding attorney fees and made findings with respect to the same. First, based on the uncontroverted evidence that Mrs. McKay was disabled and unable to work, the trial court found that Mrs. McKay was in need of financial assistance. The court found:

6. That defendant has income from social security in the sum of $363.80 and disability from the State of Utah in the sum of $587.02. A gross income of $950.82 and defendant has net income of $733.98.

7. That defendant's present minimum living expenses are the sum of $1,372.00.

9. That defendant has been disabled and has not been employed or employable since 1987.

Further, the court, based on Mr. Olsen's testimony (Transcript at 37) and an affidavit of attorney fees submitted by Mr. Olsen (R. at 280), found that the requested attorney fees were reasonable. The court found:

23. That defendant requested that she be granted judgment against plaintiff for reasonable attorney fees and the Court having taken that issue under advisement and defendant's counsel having submitted an Affidavit as to said attorney fees and plaintiff's counsel having responded to said Affidavit and the Court having issued its Memorandum Decision on the 10th day of December, 1992, and the Court findings that defendant should be granted judgment against plaintiff for reasonable attorney fees in the sum of $2,789.00 for the use and benefit of defendant's counsel herein.

Finally, the court determined that Mr. McKay had the ability to pay attorney fees, finding that:

8. That plaintiff's income for 1989 was $36,472.65 and plaintiff's income for 1990 was $36,690 and plaintiff's income for 1991 was $33,681.89.

Therefore, because the district court considered (1) Mrs. McKay's need of financial assistance; (2) the reasonableness of the requested fees; and (3) Mr. McKay's ability to pay reasonable attorney fees, the court did not abuse its discretion in awarding Mrs. McKay attorney fees in the amount of $2,789.00.

V. MRS. MCKAY IS ENTITLED TO ATTORNEY FEES ON APPEAL.

This court has held: "[o]rdinarily, when fees in a divorce have been awarded below to the party who then prevails on appeal, fees will also be awarded to that party on appeal." Watson v. Watson, 837 P.2d 1, 8 (Utah App. 1992) (quoting Bell v. Bell, 810 P.2d 489, 494 (Utah App. 1991)).

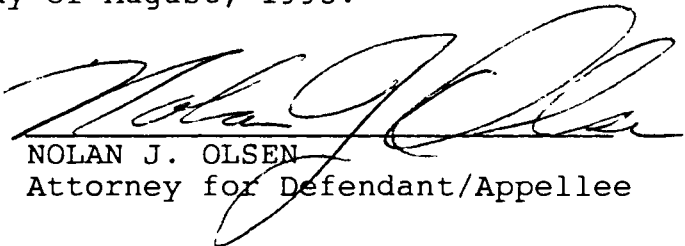

Therefore, if Mrs. McKay prevails in this appeal, she is entitled to reasonable attorney fees to be determined by the district court on remand. Id.

CONCLUSION

Because Mr. McKay failed to comply with the briefing requirements set forth in Rule 24(a)(7) of the Utah Rules of Appellate Procedure, the judgment of the district court should be upheld. In the alternative, the evidence before the district court supported its finding of a substantial change of circumstances since the entry of the divorce decree in this case. Based on that finding, the trial court did not abuse its discretion in modifying the divorce decree and awarding Mrs. McKay alimony in the amount of $500. Further the trial court did not abuse its discretion in awarding Mrs. McKay delinquent child support in the amount of $914.00. Finally, the trial court did not abuse its discretion in awarding Mrs. McKay attorney fees in the amount of $2,789.00, and since attorney fees were awarded at trial, Mrs. McKay is entitled to attorney fees if she prevails in this appeal.

Defendant.	:	Honorable Anne M. Stirba

---

The above-entitled matter having come on to be heard on the 8th day of October, 1992, before the Honorable Anne M. Stirba, plaintiff appearing in person and by his attorney, Jane Allen, and defendant appearing in person and by her attorney, Nolan J. Olsen, and plaintiff and defendant having presented evidence and testified in the above matter, and the court having been fully advised in the premises now makes the following:

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. That plaintiff and defendant were married in May of 1986.
2. That four children were born of the marriage, three of whom have reached majority, and there is one minor child, to-wit: Donald Allan McKay, born October 24, 1977.
3. That pursuant to the Decree of Divorce and modification thereof, defendant was awarded $1.00 per year alimony and $500.00 per month child support.

4. That plaintiff and defendant stipulated that defendant is presently disabled and not capable of employment and that said disability was not contemplated by the Decree of Divorce.

5. That defendant is presently paying medicare insurance in the sum of $31.80, Public Employees Medical Insurance in the sum of $164.43, and defendant expends approximately $150.00 per month on medicines and doctor and dental bills.

6. That defendant has income from social security in the sum of $363.80 and disability from the State of Utah in the sum of $587.02. A gross income of $950.82 and defendant has net income of $733.98.

7. That defendant's present minimum living expenses are the sum of $1,372.00.

8. That plaintiff's income for 1989 was $36,472.65 and plaintiff's income for 1990 was $36,690.00 and plaintiff's income for 1991 was $33,681.89 and plaintiff's income for the year 1980 was the sum of $20,000.00, an approximate increase of 41% to 45%.

9. That defendant has been disabled and has not been employed or employable since 1987.

10. That plaintiff agreed to pay the orthodontist obligation on the minor child, Donald Allan McKay.

11. That plaintiff is remarried and plaintiff's wife earns in excess of $17,000.00 per year.

12. That plaintiff and his present wife own a home, new truck and automobile and that plaintiff is presently paying a payment on his present wife's pickup in the sum of $488.00 per month.

13. That defendant has been receiving food from the LDS church during the past several years and defendant's mother has been paying her mortgage payment until recently. That defendant's mother now has a lien on her home for said mortgage payments and is unwilling or unable to continue assisting defendant.

14. That defendant has need for assistance from plaintiff to provide her a frugal life style.

15. That plaintiff has the income and ability to provide alimony to the defendant.

16. That $500.00 is a reasonable sum to be awarded to defendant as alimony.

17. That plaintiff should be ordered to pay the remaining orthodontic obligations as well as Dr. Wilson.

18. That plaintiff is delinquent on his child support in the sum of $914.00 and judgment should be granted defendant for said sum.

19. That the minor child, Donald Allan McKay, is presently residing with the plaintiff and should be allowed to temporarily reside with the plaintiff for a period of six months and in the event said minor child makes a determination to live with plaintiff, then the custody of said child should be made permanent.

20. That the child support shall be terminated as of October 1, 1992.

21. That the Recovery Services should be ordered to terminate support for said minor child.

22. That the Court determines that the defendant does not have sufficient income to pay plaintiff child support.

23. That defendant requested that she be granted judgment against plaintiff for reasonable attorney fees and the Court having taken that issue under advisement and defendant's counsel having submitted an Affidavit as to said attorney fees and plaintiff's counsel having responded to said Affidavit and the Court having issued its Memorandum Decision on the 10th day of December, 1992, and the Court finds that defendant should be granted judgment against plaintiff for reasonable attorney fees in the sum of $2,789.00 for the use and benefit of defendant's counsel herein.

From the foregoing Findings of Fact, the court makes the following:

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. That there has been a substantial change of circumstances in that defendant is no longer receiving child support, defendant is disabled and no longer has the ability to produce income, and without assistance the defendant would become a public charge.

2. That the Decree of Divorce should be modified as follows:

a. That plaintiff should be ordered to pay to defendant the sum of $500.00 per month as alimony commencing in October, 1992. That said alimony at defendant's request should be paid through the Clerk of the Court.

b. That the plaintiff should be awarded the temporary care, custody and control of the minor child, Donald Allan McKay, for a period of six months at which time if the child determines to continue to live with the plaintiff, permanent custody should be awarded to the plaintiff.

c. That the child support being paid by plaintiff to defendant through the Recovery Services should be terminated forthwith.

d. That no child support is to be paid by defendant to plaintiff.

e. That plaintiff waives child support from the defendant during the six month temporary change of custody period and until further order of the Court.

3. That defendant should be awarded judgment against plaintiff for the sum of $914.00 delinquent child support.

4. The defendant should be awarded judgment against plaintiff for the sum of $2,789.00 as reasonable attorney fees for the use and benefit of her counsel in this action.

ALLAN LESLIE MCKAY,	:	MEMORANDUM DECISION
Plaintiff,	:	CASE NO. D-80-4670
vs.	:
MARY ANN MCKAY,	:
Defendant.	:

The above-entitled matter came before the Court for trial on September 4, 1992. At the conclusion of the trial petitioner's counsel requested the opportunity to supplement the trial record with an affidavit of his attorney's fees and costs. Respondent did not object to this request. The Court thereupon ruled on all of the issues involved in the trial, except for the amount of attorney's fees to be awarded. The Court did, however, specifically find that petitioner had a need for respondent to pay her attorney's fees and that respondent had the ability to pay the attorney's fees. Thus, the only issue to be resolved was the amount and reasonableness of petitioner's counsel's fees.

Petitioner's counsel subsequently submitted his affidavit of fees and billing statement to the Court. Respondent then filed an objection to both the late filing procedure and the reasonableness of the fees. Because respondent objected to petitioner's counsel's filing of an affidavit of fees post-trial, the Court conducted a conference with counsel by telephone on November 13, 1992, and offered to have an evidentiary hearing on the issue of fees, so as to afford respondent the opportunity to cross-examine counsel on the issue of fees. Respondent's counsel declined the Court's offer to participate in an evidentiary hearing and, instead requested the Court to rule based on the materials before the Court. The Court then took the matter under advisement.

The Court, having reviewed the affidavit and billing statement of petitioner's counsel, respondent's objections thereto, and for good cause appearing, hereby rules as follows.

In his affidavit, counsel for petitioner claims $3,868.00 in attorney's fees and costs. This counsel charges $135.00 per hour for his time and he claims work for 28.3 hours. Counsel also alleges that he worked in excess of this time on this case, so that he actually billed less time than he actually worked.

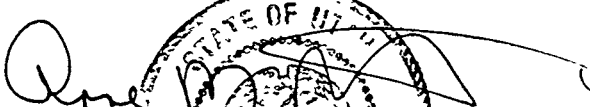

Based on the Court's review of respondent's objections, the Court hereby sustains respondent's objections set forth in paragraphs 4, 5 and 7 of respondent's Response to Defendant's Attorney's Affidavit of Attorneys Fees for the reason that the information in the billing statement concerning the "consultations," "letters" and the "trial brief" is not specific enough on which this Court can find that the time represented is reasonably and necessarily incurred in the prosecution of this case.

Accordingly, the $3,868.00 requested by petitioner is reduced by $1,079.00. The total reasonable and necessarily incurred fees to be awarded to petitioners are $2,789.00.

Petitioner's counsel is to prepare Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law and final Judgment on all issues in this matter.

Dated this 10th day of December, 1992.

	:	Civil No. D-80-4670
MARY ANN MCKAY,	:
Defendant.	:

COMES NOW the Plaintiff, by and through his counsel, S. Junior Baker, and answers the Defendant's First Set of Interrogatories as follows:

1. Please set forth your employment record during the past five (5) years, including:

a. The name and address of your employer, or if you worked for yourself, the name of the business, and whether it was a sole proprietorship, partnership or corporation;

b. The inclusive dates for each such employment or self-employment;

c. The type of work performed;

d. The gross annual income from such employment for each of the past five (5) years;

e. The net annual income of each employment for each of the last five (5) years.

ANSWER: Plaintiff objects to all information requested beyond the date of the divorce as being burdensome and immaterial to this matter as this matter deals only with the material change of circumstances since the divorce. All information requested for those periods subsequent to the divorce is provided as follows:

a. EIMAC Varian, 1678 South Pioneer Road, Salt Lake City, Utah.

b. The Plaintiff began working April of 1979 and has continued to the present.

c. Plaintiff performs electronics quality control inspections.

d. 1982 gross wages were $21,875.93. 1981 gross wages were approximately $20,000.00.

e. 1982 net annual income was $17,072.38. 1981 net annual income is unknown but is estimated to be $16,500.00.

a. The Plaintiff was further self-employed as Allan McKay Body and Paint.

b. This sole proprietorship was begun in 1982.

c. The type of work performed is minor body and paint work on motor vehicles.

d. The gross annual income from such employment for 1982 was a loss of $81.00.

e. There was no net annual income from such employment.

2. Have you filed a Federal Income Tax Return during the past five (5) years? If so, for each return, state:

a. Whether it is a separate or joint return;

b. The year for which it was filed;

c. The address of the office where it was filed;

d. The amount of taxable income reported;

e. The name and address of the person who prepared the return;

f. Whether you have a copy.

ANSWER: The Plaintiff renews the objection voiced in Interrogatory Number 1. The unobjected to portion is answered as follows:

a. 1982 filed as a joint return. 1981 filed as a joint return.

b. See Answer to "a".

c. 1982 returned filed in Ogden, Utah; 1981 return filed in Ogden, Utah.

d. The taxable income reported for 1982 for the Plaintiff and his present wife is listed as $26,598.00. The amount of taxable income reported for 1981 is listed as $24,969.00.

e. Both returns were prepared by Perry Matthews, 3115 Millerama Avenue, West Valley City, Utah.

f. Plaintiff has in his possession copies for 1981 and 1982.

The Defendant has all copies of tax returns filed for prior years.

3. If you will do so without a Motion to Produce, attach a copy of each Federal Income Tax Return referred to in the preceding Interrogatory.

ANSWER: Copies are attached hereto.

4. If you will do so without a Motion to Produce, attach a copy of each State Income Tax Return filed during the past five (5) years.

ANSWER: Defendant has in her possession all copies of tax returns filed prior to 1981. Copies of the 1981 and 1982 returns are attached hereto.
